REPORT OF THE
CHIEF ELECTORAL OFFICER

(Pursuant to Section 168 of the Newfoundland Election Act)

PREFACE

This report would be meaningless without a brief introductory comment on the political mosaic which presented dynamic and rapid changes during the month preceding this issue of Writs for the General Election.

The Progressive Conservative Premier of Newfoundland since 1979, A. Brian Peckford, indicated he would tender his resignation as Premier following a Leadership Convention. The convention was held on March 11, 1989, and Thomas Rideout was elected Leader of the Progressive Conservative Party. He was sworn in as Premier on March 22, 1989, and on that same day, A. Brian Peckford resigned his seat as the member for the Electoral District of Green Bay and the premiership. Thomas Rideout was the incumbent member for the Electoral District of Baie Verte-White Bay.

Following the General Election in which the Leader of the Liberal Party, Clyde K. Wells was an unsuccessful candidate in the Electoral District of Humber East a By Election was held in the Electoral District of Bay of Islands in which Clyde K. Wells was elected by acclamation on May 20th., 1989. A detailed report on this By Election will be published later.

Clyde K. Wells had been sworn in as the fourth Premier of Newfoundland on May 5th., 1989. He had led the Liberal Party to victory in the General Election. The subsequent By Election gave him a seat in the House of Assembly. Similar electoral results in the Provinces of Quebec and Alberta occasioned the election of Premiers Bourassa and Getty in By Elections when they were Premiers.

The Lieutenant Governor In Council commenced the Forty-First General Election by Proclamation dated the 29th. day of March 1989 in which it was directed:

- (1) The Fortieth General Assembly of the Province of Newfoundland be dissolved on the 29th. day of March 1989;
- (2) Writs of Election for a General Election of (52) members to serve in the House of Assembly be issued on the 29th. day of March 1989;
- (3) The last day for Nomination of Candidates for the General Election to be the 10th. day of April, 1989; and
- (4) The day of Polling would be the 20th. day of April, 1989.

The Proclamation was published in the Newfoundland Gazette on Friday, April 7th., 1989, and is cited as Newfoundland Regulation 56/89.

Order in Council 326-'89 ordered the use of the List of Electors completed in November, 1988 be used at the General Election to be held on April 20th., 1989.

One hundred forty six Candidates were nominated; 6 Independents; 52 Liberals; 36 New Democrats and 52 Progressive Conservatives. There are only three political parties active in Newfoundland.

Regulation 62/89 also published in the April 7th., 1989 edition of the Newfoundland Gazette ordered Advance Polls be held on both Monday, April 17th., 1989 and Tuesday, April 18th., 1989 throughout the Province. There were 64 Advance Polling Stations, all of which were accessible to the physically challenged.

Regulation 89/89 published in the Newfoundland Gazette on May 19th, 1989, provided for the establishment of Special Polling Stations throughout the Province. This is a very significant fact. There were 1,835 Regular Polls. The Special Poll deployment constituted a parallel election from an administrative point of view, and involved 1,715 Polls.

Amendments to provide for Proxy Voting or Mail In Ballots would eliminate any future requirements for Special Polls. These amendments are preferred because the brief electoral time period is usually only 21 days which makes the administration of such great numbers of Special Polls extremely difficult to the point where the electoral process is at risk.

These Special Polls were established in the following locations for the following numbers of Electoral Districts...

In these Special Poll locations there were some additional Regular Polls established for the Electoral District in which Special Polls were located. These were necessary because the Election Act precludes the establishment of a Special Poll in any Electoral District when Regular Polls are accessible to electors.

Special Polls administratively enable electors away from their place of ordinary residence in an Electoral District to vote. The specific choice of locations is the result of a careful study of available information by the Chief Electoral Officer and staff resulting in a recommendation, subject always to reasonable limitations, made usually between elections. The Chief Electoral Officer was publicly criticized for not establishing a Special Poll on an oil rig in the offshore area. The position taken was that unless all ships at sea including trawlers from Newfoundland ports, Coast Guard vessels and Marine Atlantic vessels could also be accommodated by the Special Poll System, no Special Polls would be established at sea. Furthermore, additional Special Polls would have placed the electoral process at risk. Finally, the Election Act does not consider such circumstances and the establishment of Special Polls at sea is precluded by the Election Act. As a result no recommendations went forward in respect of marine mobile or stationary Special Polls.

Special Polls in health care facilities are the only method under the Election Act that may be used to assure patients in acute care facilities have an opportunity to exercise their franchise. Similarly, administrative procedures in place in correctional facilities permit inmates to vote. Inmates in Newfoundland are not prohibited from voting by the Election Act.

The significance of this administrative apparatus is the fact that extant electoral law does not provide for proxy and/or absentee voting. In the face of the Charter of Rights and Freedoms, in particular, the "Political Rights Section", the only way to enfranchise electors out of their regular place of residence is the Special Poll procedure. Even then, all electors outside the Province are disfranchised because the Election Act does not consider a method to permit these electors to vote.

Because the reaction to the 1985 Election Statistics which contained the descriptions of polling divisions for most Districts was so positive, these Election Statistics also set out the polling descriptions for all Electoral Districts in the Province. This is of particular interest to persons who may be involved in future political activity and to the many election administrators who have an essential need for this information.

Following the General Election there were three Judicial Recounts. Two written Judgements were given at these Recounts. The Judicial Recount documentation contained in these Returns is published to acquaint the community with the Recount process, and to assist political parties and election administrators in the performance of their election duties. The documentation is very complete. And it goes without saying that no criticism of any particular individual is intended.

A very sincere thank you is extended to the many election officers and headquarters staff who conducted this General Election so very well. The Chief Electoral Officer of Ontario, Warren Bailie, must also be thanked for allowing Loren Wells, to accept a secondment in Newfoundland for the General Election. Loren Wells is the Chief Election Clerk for the Province of Ontario and her work here during the Election was invaluable. Similarly, the cooperation of political parties, candidates and workers was outstanding.

The press coverage of the General Election, in particular, by the Canadian Press was very accurate and their spirited cooperation is very much appreciated.

To conclude; in the General Election an effort was made to assure that all polling stations were accessible to the physically challenged. Indeed, a recent amendment to the Election Act requires that all polling stations be accessible. Unfortunately, in some cases, in the smaller communities in Newfoundland, this was not possible. But some indication of commitment to this principle is evident from the fact that funds were provided to construct ramps and other apparatus for this purpose, within reasonable financial limits.

Dermot F. Whelan

TO THE HONOURABLE THE SUPREME COURT OF NEWFOUNDLAND, TRIAL
DIVISION, OR ONE OF THE HONOURABLE JUDGES THEREOF

The application of Roger Fitzgerald of Musgravetown in the Province of Newfoundland, says:

1. That I was a candidate in the Provincial General Election for Newfoundland held on April 20, 1989 in the District of Bonavista South.
2. That on the 23rd day of April, A.D., 1989 the returning

  - (a) that on some sheets the addition is incorrect;
  - (b) that on some sheets the number of votes listed as having been cast does not equal the number of ballots listed as being in the ballot box;
  - (c) that on one sheet the names of the candidates are not listed.
4. That it is my belief that the Deputy Returning Officers may have made an incorrect statement of the number of ballots cast for each individual candidate.
5. That your Applicant therefore applies for an Order that a Judge of this Honourable Court appoint a time and place to recount the votes cast at the election.

DECISION OF HALLEY, J.

This is an application by Roger Fitzgerald of Musgravetown in the Province of Newfoundland, a candidate in the Provincial General Election for the Province of Newfoundland, in the Electoral District of Bonavista South for an order that this court conduct a recount of the votes cast at the election in that District.

ISSUE

Whether seventeen ballots cast in the Electoral District of Bonavista South were valid within the meaning of the Election Act, being Chapter 106 of the Revised Statutes of Newfoundland of 1970 (the "Act").

FACTS

On April 20th, 1989 a Provincial General Election was held in the Province of Newfoundland. In the Electoral District of Bonavista South (the "District") there were three candidates eligible for election. The Applicant, Roger Fitzgerald (the "Applicant"), an electrician from Musgravetown, was the Progressive Conservative Party candidate. Aubrey Trent Gover ("Gover"), a lawyer from Clarenville, represented the Liberal Party. The New Democratic Party candidate was Norman Rex Sheppard ("Sheppard"), a business agent from Bonavista.

On April 23rd, 1989 John Snow the returning officer for the District declared that Aubrey Trent Gover was the successful candidate with 1,951 votes followed by the Applicant with 1,931 votes. There were 259 votes cast for Norman Rex Sheppard.

Upon Examination of the Statements of the Poll provided by the returning officer the Applicant alleged that there were several irregularities. Upon application to this Court it was ordered that the returning officer and Joyce Alexander, the Election Clerk, attended before this Court on Thursday, May 18th, 1989 with the envelopes containing the ballot papers and the original Statements of the Poll in order to permit a judicial recount.

The count of every poll was reviewed by the Court. This review included the number of ballots supplied to the poll, the number of spoiled ballots and the number of unused and used ballots. The number of votes for each candidate were recorded as well as those ballots that were rejected as not cast pursuant to the provisions of the Act. This procedure was followed for each of the thirty-three special polls, the advanced poll and the thirty-seven regular polls.

The only candidates represented at the hearing were the Applicant and Gover who agreed that there were 1,928 votes cast for the Applicant, 1,942 votes cast for Gover, 259 votes cast for Shepard and 5 ballots were properly rejected by the election officer. There were seventeen ballots set aside as RESERVES for determination as to whether they were valid ballots.

The Act provides that an elector may vote by casting a ballot. This ballot is supplied by the deputy returning officer at each poll. The ballot must have the initials of the deputy returning officer affixed and it must be folded and handed to the elector.

Section 71(3) of the Election Act details the manner in which an elector should cast the ballot.

"The elector on receiving the ballot paper shall forthwith proceed into a voting compartment and there mark his ballot paper by making a cross with a black lead pencil within the space on the ballot paper containing the name and particulars of the candidate ( or of each of the candidates ) for whom he intends to vote , and he shall then fold the ballot paper as directed so that the initials on the back of it and the printed serial number on the back of the counterfoil can be seen without unfolding it, and hand the ballot paper to the deputy returning officer, who shall, without unfolding it, ascertain by examination of his initials and the printed serial number that it is the ballot paper delivered to the elector and if it is he shall immediately in full view of the elector and all others present, remove and destroy the counterfoil and the deputy returning officer shall deposit the ballot paper in the ballot box."

Sections 76(2) and (2A) of the Act provide for the rejection of certain ballot papers.

"In counting the votes the deputy returning officer shall reject all ballot papers,

- (a) which have not been supplied by him;
  - (b) which have not been marked for any candidate;
  - (c) on which votes have been cast for more candidates than are to be elected; or
  - (d) upon which there is any writing or mark by which the elector could be identified.
- (2A) a ballot paper shall not be rejected pursuant to sub-section (2) by reason only that;
- (a) it has on it any writing, number or mark placed thereon by the deputy returning officer;
  - (b) it has been marked with a writing instrument other than a black lead pencil or it has a mark other than a cross if the mark does not constitute identification of the elector, or
  - (c) it is marked out of or partly out of place where it should be marked."

Consideration of the Act must be viewed in the context of Section 17 of The Interpretation Act, being Chapter 182 of the Revised Statutes of Newfoundland of 1970, which provides that the provisions of all Provincial legislation are deemed remedial and they must be construed liberally so that the interpretation of the Act "best ensures the attainment of the objects of the Act, regulation or provision according to its true intent, meaning and spirit".

Section 76 (2A)(b) of The Election Act provides that a ballot is properly cast where the elector has made a "mark". This mark does not necessarily have to be in the form of a "cross". The mark could include any form of writing made on the ballot paper by the elector indicating the elector's choice of candidates. This mark may be by means of a number, a letter, a word, a line, a dot or any other symbol or symbols indicating the choice of the elector.

After determining that the elector clearly made a choice of one of the candidates the Court must consider whether the mark could permit identification of the elector. This is an objective test. In order to determine whether an elector's mark constitutes an identification each ballot must be looked at separately. A determination of fact must be made with respect to each ballot. If the mark could reasonably identify the elector then the ballot must be rejected as being contrary to the provisions of Section 72 (2A) (b) of the Act.

Reserve No. 1 (Poll No. 2)

This was counted on election night as a vote for Gover. It has a diagonal line next to Fitzgerald and has a series of faint lines through that line. The ballot also contains a properly formed "X" opposite Gover. The elector placed a mark by Fitzgerald, changed his mind and attempted to obliterate the mark and then cast his vote by putting an "X" opposite Gover's name. I find that these markings could not identify the voter. This is a valid ballot for Gover.

Reserve No. 2 (Poll No. 3)

This ballot contains a diagonal line and an "X" in the space opposite Gover's name. The voter in this case obviously began to form the "X" and placed a diagonal line but then felt that the "X" should be placed to the far left of the ballot paper and formed and "X" in that area. I am satisfied the diagonal mark could not constitute an identification of the elector. It is a valid ballot cast for Gover.

Reserve No. 3 (Poll No. 4)

The elector properly marked the front of the ballot for the elector's choice of candidates. The elector then turned the ballot over and misreading the directions to the deputy returning officer placed the initials "R.A." under the initials of the deputy returning officer. This ballot obviously contravenes Section 76 (2A) (b) of the Act because it contains "writing" by which an elector could be identified. The ballot is rejected.

Reserve No. 4 (Poll No. 6)

This ballot contains an "X" opposite the Applicant's name. It also contains in the same block a lighter diagonal line. This lighter line appears to have been made by the elector unintentionally. These marking could not be capable of identifying the elector. I find that this is a valid ballot for Fitzgerald.

Reserve No. 5 (Poll No. 6)

This ballot is marked similarly to Reserve No. 4 in that it has an "X" opposite to Gover's name but there is also a light scribble in the same box. For the reasons set out in the previous paragraph this is a valid ballot for Gover.

Reserve No. 6 (Poll No. 6)

This ballot also has an "X" preceded by a light scribble in Gover's box and for the reasons set out in Reserves 4 and 5 this is a valid ballot for Gover.

Reserve No. 7 (Poll No. 10)

This ballot has two "X's" opposite Gover's name. This is not an attempt by the voter to make an identifying mark but rather the reaction of an over-zealous elector indicating a choice of candidates. The "X's" are such that they could not identify the voter. I find that this is a valid ballot for Gover.

Reserve No. 8

It was agreed by the parties that this was a valid ballot for Fitzgerald.

Reserve No. 9 (Poll No. 11)

This ballot contains a mark in the general form of an "X". The voter then attempted to trace over the "X" a couple of times. It appears that this was done by a person who wanted to make quite sure that the vote would be registered for Gover. This mark could not identify the elector and it is a valid ballot for Gover.

Reserve No. 10 (Poll No. 11)

This ballot is marked similarly to those in Reserves 4, 5 and 6. There is an "X" opposite the Applicant's name preceded by a lighter line. For the reasons previously set out this is a valid ballot for Fitzgerald.

Reserve No. 11 (Poll No. 11)

This ballot contains an "X" in Gover's box but it also contains markings in Sheppard's box. The voter put a line by Sheppard's name, changed his or her mind, then successfully obliterated the diagonal line by other lines. I do not find that these markings could identify the voter. This is a valid ballot for Gover.

Reserve No. 12

It was agreed by the parties that this was a valid ballot for Fitzgerald.

Reserve No. 13 (Poll No. 25)

The elector placed the words "yes bye" in the Fitzgerald box. I find that the voter successfully marked his choice of candidates, however, the expression and the style of writing could constitute an identification of the elector and therefore the ballot is rejected.

Reserve No. 14 (Poll No. 28)

This ballot contains a line drawn around the word "Roger" which is the first name of the Applicant. I find that for the purposes of the Act the line drawn around "Roger" is a "mark". I do not find that this mark could reasonably identify the elector. This is a valid ballot for Fitzgerald.

Reserve No. 15 (Poll No. 29)

The voter placed an "X" in the Gover box. There are also several faint lines present in that box. For reasons stated above this is a valid ballot for Gover.

Reserve No. 16 (Poll No. 30)

The ballot contains the word "Grover" in the Gover box. I find that the elector intended to vote for Gover, however both the manner of spelling and the type of handwriting could identify the elector and therefore the ballot is contrary to the provisions of the Act and is rejected.

Reserve No. 17 (Poll No. 34)

This ballot contains a series of three "X's" in the Gover Box. I find these marks are made by an over-enthusiastic voter and there was not attempt made to identify the voter. For the reasons stated with respect to Reserve No. 7 I find that this is a valid ballot for Gover.

CONCLUSION

The result of my consideration of the seventeen RESERVES is that I find that four ballots were cast for Fitzgerald, ten for Gover and three are rejected.

The following are the results of the recount of the votes cast for the election of a candidate for the District of Bonavista South in the Provincial General Election held on April 20th, 1989:

- 10 -

Votes counted for Roger Fitzgerald -----	1932
Votes counted for Aubrey Gover -----	1952
Votes counted for Norman Rex Sheppard -----	259
Rejected ballots -----	8
Total votes cast -----	4151

There is no order as to costs.

5. Annexed hereto marked "A1," "A2," "A3," and "A4," are Statements of the Poll from the Deputy Returning Officers for Polling Stations 1, 2, 3, and 8 respectively.
6. The said statements contain errors or omissions of information needed to arrive at an exact determination of votes cast or failed to account for all the ballot papers received by the Deputy Returning Officer and such errors, omissions and other inaccuracies appearing on the Statements of the Poll tend to show that the votes have been miscounted or that the Deputy

Returning Officers concerned have made incorrect statements of the number of votes cast for the respective candidates.

7. That attached hereto and marked "B1" is the Affidavit of Jeff Day, being an inside agent on my behalf in the Electoral District of Mount Scio - Bell Island, deposing that the Deputy Returning Officer for the Electoral District of Mount Scio - Bell Island at Polling Station number 7 improperly disqualified certain ballots in my favour.
8. That attached hereto and marked "B2" is the Affidavit of Jean Hawco of Bell Island, in the Province of Newfoundland, who, being an inside agent on my behalf was not permitted to witness the counting of the ballots in the presence of the Deputy Returning Officer for the Electoral District of Mount Scio - Bell Island at Polling Station number 19, and, therefore, is of the belief that certain ballots may have been rejected to the detriment of the Applicant herein.
9. The Applicant, therefore, applies for an Order that this Honourable Court appoint a time and place to recount the votes cast in the said Election and to issue an Order directed to the Returning Officer aforesaid to attend at that time and place and produce the parcels containing the used and counted, the unused, the rejected and spoiled papers and other election material relevant to the recount and for such other Order as to which this Honourable Court may deem just.

On the 22nd day of April, A.D. 1989, the Returning Officer for the Electoral District of St. John's, Eric Pitcher, pursuant to his public notice given in that behalf, and in accordance with the provisions of Section 77(2) of the Election Act, at his residence at 118 Topsail Road, St. John's, Newfoundland, conducted the official addition of the votes and at the completion thereof declared the number votes counted for each candidate to be as follows:

Thomas Murphy	2109
Douglas Atkinson	2108
Linda Hyde	677
Rejected Ballots	24

so that only one vote separates the leading candidate from the Applicant.

4. Ronald Butler, the Applicants official Agent, was present at the official addition of the votes and observed the condition of the ballot boxes and the contents of same and he did personally view the official statements, where included, and other election documents or material taken from the said ballot boxes by the said Returning Officers and required to be perused or inspected by him for the purpose of ascertaining the number of votes cast at each polling station in the said Electoral District for the respective candidates.
5. Annexed hereto marked A-1, A-2, A-3, A-4, A-5, A-6, and A-7, are statements of the Poll from the Deputy Returning Officer for Polling Stations 2, 3, 6, 21, 25, and 27.
6. The said statements contain errors or omissions of information needed to arrive at an exact determination of votes cast or failed to account for all the ballot papers received by the Deputy Returning Officer, and such errors, omissions, and other inaccuracies appearing on the statements of the Poll tend to show that the votes have been miscounted, or that the Deputy Returning Officers concerned have made incorrect statements of the number of votes cast for the respective candidates.

7. That attached hereto marked B-1 is the Affidavit of Barbara Moore, being a voter in the Electoral District of St. John's-South deposing that the Deputy Returning Officer for the Electoral District of St. John's-South at Polling Station NO. 24 improperly rejected one ballot paper.
8. That attached hereto marked B-2 is the Affidavit of Shirley Horlick, being a voter in the Electoral District of St. John's-South deposing that the Deputy Returning Officer for the Electoral District of St. John's South at Polling Station No. 27 improperly rejected one ballot paper.
9. The Applicant asks that the Court appoint a time a place to recount the votes cast in the said election and to issue and Order directed to the Returning Officer aforesaid to attend at that time and place and produce the parcels containing the used and counted, the unused, the rejected, and spoiled papers, and other election material relevant to the recount and any other Order that this Court deems necessary and just.

IN THE SUPREME COURT OF NEWFOUNDLAND

IN THE MATTER of the Election

AND IN THE MATTER of a General Election of members to serve in the House of Assembly of the Province of Newfoundland and Labrador on the 20th day of April, A.D. 1989 in the Electoral District of St.

AND IN THE MATTER of the Application of Douglas
Atkinson, of St. John's-Newfoundland.

A decision given by Madam Justice Margaret A. Cameron on the 11th day of May, A.D., 1989.

Mr. Richard Rogers for the Applicant

Mr. Dennis Barry for Mr. Murphy

THE COURT: Yesterday we adjourned to allow me to consider the submissions of Counsel for Mr. Atkinson and counsel for Mr. Murphy respecting 13 ballots which were cast in the District of St. John's South during the recent election. Before dealing with each of the ballots in turn I would like to make some comments about the approach that I have adopted.

The general principle I have followed is that if the ballot was marked so that there is no doubt for which candidate the vote was cast and there has been compliance with the Election Act, on a fair and reasonable interpretation of that act, then the vote should be allowed to count.

Section 71(3) of the Election Act states the method of voting. The ballot is to be marked by making a cross with a black lead pencil within the space on the ballot paper containing the name and particulars of the candidate for whom the elector intends to vote. By Section 76(2) certain ballots must be rejected including those upon which there is any writing or mark by which the elector could be identified, but by subsection 2A a ballot shall not be rejected by reason only that (a) it has on it any writing, number or mark placed thereon by the deputy returning officer; (b) it has been marked with a writing instrument other than a black lead pencil or it has a mark other than a cross if the mark does not constitute identification of the elector; or (c) it is marked out of or partly out of the place where it should be marked.

Two questions central to the task at hand are raised by these sections. First, what is a mark? Second, what is meant by the phrase "by which the elector could be identified"? As was pointed out yesterday, the sections use the term "writing, number or mark" indicating that mark means something other than writing or number. I conclude a ballot must be marked; that is one cannot cast a vote by writing alone.

If the ballot contains writing and a mark or a number of different marks, is it invalid? The test is could the elector be identified by the writing or mark not might he be. That's an easily said task but I'm afraid the drawing of the line between the two becomes quite difficult. The weight of the authorities is that words or names upon a ballot paper ought to vitiate the vote as being means by which the voter could be identified. Taken to the extreme it could be argued that anything other than a straight cross could be some code to identifying the voter. That clearly would be unreasonable. The difficulty, as I have indicated, is trying to determine where the line should be drawn between these two extremes.

The approach which I have adopted is that expressed by Channell, J. in the Exeter Case, Duke V. St. Maur, 1911, 6 O'Malley and Hardcastle Election Cases at page 228. At page 229 of that text he states as follows:

"It is obvious to begin with, that the mistakes that illiterate and unskilled persons may make in filling up their ballot papers are almost infinite, but it is equally true that the devices that fraudulent people may arrange between themselves for identification are also infinite, and it seems to me that what you have got to do when you have got ballot papers of the kind such as we are considering, some for the purpose of seeing for whom they voted, and some for the purpose of seeing whether there are marks of identification, it seems to me that what you have got to do is to look at the paper and to form your own opinion upon looking at it whether what is there is put there by the voter for the purpose of indicating for whom he votes. It seems to me that when you find a ballot paper which has got something clearly going beyond the intention to indicate for whom he votes, the you must hold the vote to be bad."

With that in mind I intend to examine each of the ballot papers which were held in reserve and to indicate the ruling in respect of each of them. After having done that we can perhaps go back through and look at the revised count for the polls which result because of the changes made.

One other point which I perhaps should mention is that I have examined the authorities cited to me by counsel and indeed other authorities. Frankly, they were not of great assistance: one, because usually there are cases going both ways and two, because there are some differences in legislation which may account for differences in interpretation. But in the case of some of these ballots I will be able to cite for you authority in support of the position which I have taken.

We'll deal first with Poll No. 1 in which there was one reserve vote. That ballot contains a check mark and a number of X's and O's in the corner. I have rejected this ballot. The voter clearly went beyond what was needed to indicate for whom the individual was voting.

The next ballot is from Poll No. 3. There was one reserve ballot. That ballot contains a clearly marked X and a number of lighter lines covering the area in which Mr. Atkinson's name is placed. The issue raised by this ballot is did the voter intend to erase the X which he had marked, did he change his mind, is this a clear case of a voter intending to eliminate the X which was placed on the ballot? I have not been satisfied that the voter intended to obliterate the mark. I am satisfied that this should be counted. Had he intended to do so, he could have easily done so in the method chosen by another voter later. He had the pencil there. He could obliterate it a lot more clearly than he had done here. This ballot is a valid ballot and will be counted for Mr. Atkinson.

The next poll is Poll No. 5. I would like to add for the record that yesterday when I took my notes regarding the changes which had been made to the ballots, I purposely, except in one case where it was clearly obvious, omitted any reference as to whose ballot the reserve related to or who it would have appeared, that the ballot reserved related to. So that last evening when I was reviewing this and making my determination, for the most part, I was not aware of who might be the beneficiary of the decision if indeed it was that the ballot should be counted.

Now, Poll No. 5, there is one reserve. It relates to a ballot which was torn in three places. All parts of the ballot are present. The space for the initials of the D.R.O. has been filled in properly on the back. The ballot clearly indicates the choice of the elector. On the basis of what I have in front of me I cannot conclude that the voter intended to spoil his or her ballot on what is before me, and for that reason I conclude that this is a valid ballot and should be counted. For a similar conclusion you are referred to Re: West Huron Provincial Election (1905) 9 Ontario Law Reports, 602. The ballot in this case was cast for Mr. Atkinson.

The next ballot is Poll No. 7. There were two ballots reserved in this poll. The first one has an X with the initials E.W. thereafter. This ballot clearly contravenes Section 76(2)(d) in that it contains writing by which the elector could be identified and the ballot shall be rejected. The second is a tick mark alongside of which there are the words "this one". The ballot will be rejected as containing writing by which the elector could be identified.

In respect of Poll 14, there is one ballot reserved. It contains what could be described as a double X or a star. I am satisfied this is a valid ballot. The mark does not constitute an identification of the elector. It is accepted for the same reasoning that the double "X's" were accepted yesterday by the parties as indicating an over zealous voter than an attempt to make an identifying mark. That ballot was cast for Mr. Atkinson.

Poll 24, this is a ballot in which there was an X placed in the appropriate mark or the commonly accepted place where the ballot should be marked. In addition there was an X placed on the left-hand side of the same area. The result is two X's. I'm satisfied this is a valid ballot, and the fact that there is the additional cross to the left of the candidate's name does not invalidate the ballot in my view. This ballot is for Mr. Atkinson and shall be counted.

Poll 27, there were two reserved ballots in Poll 27. The first is a ballot which has an X placed in one candidate's space and another candidate's space there is, if you examine it very closely, an X which has been marked out. I find this as a valid ballot. In Prince Edward Provincial Election (1905) 9 O.L.R. 463, MacLennan, J.A. upheld the validity of a ballot which showed an X adjacent to one candidate and a distinct indication of a cross near another candidate which had been erased. The ballot was counted for the first candidate. The voter in this case I am satisfied was attempting to do a similar thing and the ballot will be counted for Mr. Atkinson. In further support you might be interested in examining Re: North Grey Provincial Elections, Boyd V. McKay (1903) 4 O.L.R. at 286. That ballot would be counted for Mr. Atkinson.

The next ballot is a ballot which contains no mark but the word "Yes". This ballot is rejected on the basis that words alone cannot comply with the Act and there is no mark.

There are four remaining reserves. They all come from Poll No. 28. The first one is a ballot containing an X and a tick mark which has been, for the want of a better term, crossed out all in the appropriate part of the box for Mr. Murphy. I'm satisfied that this is a valid ballot and will be counted for Mr. Murphy.

The next is a portion of a ballot which contains only one of the candidates name and an X across from that candidate's name. This ballot will be rejected. There is a substantial part of the ballot missing and what remains cannot be held to be a ballot in my view, and you are referred to West Bromwich Case (1911) 6 O'Malley and Hardcastle, 256 and 257 for support for the position taken in respect of this ballot.

The next ballot is one marked with or - I'm sorry, not marked. There is no mark on the ballot. There merely contains the words "Murphy". For the reasons I have already indicated this ballot is rejected as I'm satisfied there must be a mark to make valid casting of a vote.

The final ballot is the one which frankly caused me the most difficulty. It contains a circle and the issue raised by this ballot is this a mark, and I suspect that one could reasonably argue that no, it's a number of or it's a letter. There are a number of cases which would indicate that a circle is not an appropriate method of casting one's ballot; however, there are cases which also go the other way, and one has to determine whether or not the section of the Newfoundland Election Act, which I have referred to earlier and which states that a ballot should not be rejected by reason only that it has a mark other than a cross if the mark does not constitute identification of the elector. Bearing in mind what was said earlier about my task in this case, I have examined this ballot with a view to determining whether or not this was an individual who was attempting perhaps in an unorthodox way to cast his or her ballot or whether this was some kind of an attempt to communicate the identity of the voter. After a great deal of soul-searching I have determined that this is a valid ballot and it will be counted. The person for whom it was cast is Mr. Murphy.

That deals with all the reserves and what I'd like to do is go back through to adjust the counts for the particular polls in light of the decision.
