ELECTION OVERVIEW

Order of an Election

On Thursday, November 5, 2015 the Honourable Frank Fagan, Lieutenant Governor of Newfoundland Labrador, dissolved the 47th General Assembly and issued a proclamation directing the Chief Electoral Officer to issue election writs in all 40 electoral districts. The general election was to take place on Monday, November 30, 2015.

Specific dates and deadlines are outlined in the Elections Act, 1991, which affect the election calendar. Specifically:

- Nomination day is to be held on the tenth day before polling day with the deadline for the acceptance of nominations to be 2:00 p.m. that day. For the November 30, 2015 Provincial General Election, the deadline for nominations was 2:00 p.m. on Friday, November 20.
- Advance polls may be held on any of the seven days immediately preceding general election day. The day for advance polling for the 2015 Provincial General Election was set as Monday, November 23.
- According to the Elections Act, 1991, Special Ballot voting may be made available to electors up to four weeks prior to the issue of the election writs. For the 2015 Provincial General Election, Special Ballot voting began on Tuesday, October 13 and ended on Monday, November 23. Additionally, officials from ENL visited Personal Care Homes and Hospitals throughout Newfoundland and Labrador to offer Special Ballot voting to residents and patients on November 19.

Election Readiness

The Office of the Chief Electoral Officer, more commonly referred to as Elections Newfoundland and Labrador (ENL), maintains a constant state of preparedness for an election. Election supplies are stored in an on-site warehouse and staff is prepared to administer processes and procedures related to an election when needed.

The political environment in the province prior to the 2015 Provincial General Election was uncertain and an early election call seemed quite possible. ENL decided to train all provincial Returning Officers, Election Clerks and Special Ballot Officers during the summer of 2014 to ensure that, should an election be called in late summer, early fall or the spring of 2015, field staff would have updated training and would be ready to manage the election in their respective districts.

Electoral Boundary Redistribution

In January 2015, the Provincial Government announced that it would conduct a review of Newfoundland and Labrador's electoral boundaries. As per the Electoral Boundaries Act, 1990, an Electoral Boundaries Commission was formed to assess the province's electoral boundaries and submit recommendations for boundary changes to the House of Assembly. The mandate of the Electoral Boundaries Commission was to reduce the number of electoral districts from 48 to 40 and to submit their recommendations by June 9, 2015. On Monday, June 8, the Commission submitted their report and the Provincial Government announced that the general election would take place on November 30, 2015. The Commission's recommendations received Royal Assent on June 18, 2015.

This presented ENL with the very unique and time-sensitive operational challenge of addressing the concurrent events of Electoral Boundary Redistribution and General Election Administration within very close proximity of one another. ENL was required to demonstrate significant focus, innovation and effort to redefine poll boundaries, update all registered electors, source new district staff in several districts and address all technology related concerns by the first week of September 2015.

On June 8, 2015 ENL staff began the process of analyzing the impact of the Commission's recommendations on the existing Permanent List of Electors and poll boundaries in order to determine the effort and resources required to meet these very stringent timelines. Forty two of the 48 previous electoral boundaries were directly impacted which, in turn, resulted in updates to over 320,000 elector records. The redistribution of electoral boundaries also required the sequencing of 1292 polls, as well as a complete redesign of geographic shape and composition of 200 additional polls. In addition, the scale of change required a significant redesign of the existing database structure as well as certain aspects of the systems front-end interface. The ENL Voter Registry System does not have geospatial functionality so while geospatial technology was leveraged to expedite the initial requirements analysis, the work of re-constructing polls that were directly impacted was manual. As a result of a well-conceived and managed project plan and the dedication and innovation of members of the project team, this work was completed by August 25, 2015 which was less than 10 weeks from the receipt of Royal Assent.

The reduction in electoral districts from 48 to 40 resulted in a loss of eight Returning Officer positions. As a result, ENL had to undertake a significant human resources exercise to ensure that Returning Officers were in place for all 40 districts.

Additionally, the relocation of the 40 district Returning Offices led ENL to examine the proximity of the new Returning Offices to communities which would be considered 'hubs' within the districts. As a result, ENL arranged a pilot project for six additional Special Ballot offices to be set up in the communities of Carbonear, Deer Lake, Fortune, Glovertown, Lewisporte and Springdale to better serve the people of the province. Typically only one person worked in each of these additional Special Ballot offices and the hours at these locations were shorter and less frequent than those of the regular Returning Offices or ENL headquarters, but they provided additional flexibility that enabled electors to travel shorter distances for voting assistance.

As with previous elections, ENL established 14 additional Special Ballot offices in communities that met certain population and geographic factors, usually communities that were considered somewhat remote or not easily accessible. These offices were located in Bell Island, Buchans, Burgeo, Cartwright, Churchill Falls, Fogo, Hopedale, L'Anse au Loup, Natuashish, New-Wes-Valley, Port Saunders, Ramea, Roddickton, Trout River.

Election Training

Though Returning Officers, Election Clerks and Special Ballot Officers were trained in 2014 in anticipation of a possible fall 2014 general election, more than a year had passed and a refreshment training session was required to ensure that knowledge of processes and procedures was up to date. Training sessions were scheduled for the summer of 2015.

Training sessions were held in St. John's and the 120 election officials were divided into groups of approximately 20 participants to ensure that the groups were small enough to successfully conduct an activity based training session.

Each training session was four days long. Two days were dedicated to election operations training, with topics including how to select and secure polling locations, how to execute candidate nominations and how to receive and report election results, to name a few. The final two days were dedicated to Special Ballot training, with participants learning how to use the Special Ballot computer system, how to conduct home visits and so on.

For the first time ever, ENL included a training module from an external group. The Coalition of Persons with Disabilities attended each training session and delivered a presentation called, "Dispelling Myths and Respecting Rights". The presentation aimed to illustrate to election officials the types of disabilities that exist and how to best assist people who have disabilities at the district offices or polls. The reaction to the training session was overwhelmingly positive and election officials were grateful for the inclusion of such relevant and important information to the training program.

In total, ENL staff conducted seven training sessions over the period from June 29, 2015 to October 11, 2015.

Public Awareness and Communications Campaigns

For the 2015 general election, ENL implemented three public awareness campaigns:

- Are you on the Voters List? – two separate campaigns (August-September 2014 & August-September 2015)
- Special Ballot Voting – seven weeks prior to election day (began in October 2015)
- Voting in the General Election 2015 – during the writ period (November 5-30, 2015)

The 'Are You on the Voters List?' campaign encouraged electors to contact ENL's headquarters to be added to the voters list, to update their registration, or to inquire about their information on record.

The 'Special Ballot Voting' campaign advertised that Special Ballot voting was available to anyone wishing to vote by that method. The campaign aimed to explain the intent of Special Ballot voting, how to apply, identification requirements, as well as important dates and deadlines. ENL also advertised the location and office hours of the 20 additional Special Ballot offices set-up throughout the province.

The ads that ran during the writ period (November 5 – 30) included very general information such as:

- district office locations and contact information;
- general voting information (like key dates, qualifications);
- election day dates and voting hours; and,
- advance poll dates and voting hours.

Each campaign included radio, newspaper/magazine and online advertising.

The 'Are You on the Voters List' campaign included a householder mail-out.

The 'Voting in the General Election 2015' campaign included a direct-mail initiative in the form of ENL's Voter Information Card. Every person included on the voters list was mailed a Voter Information Card, which outlined key voting options, where and when to vote and contact information.

ENL also advertised on its own website, on Twitter and had a direct link from the provincial government website to our website.

ENL's social media presence increased over the 2011 election and subsequent by-elections. The main objective of ENL's presence on Twitter, for example, was pointing people to the proper channel for submitting formal complaints, correcting false information that was tweeted by others (for example, there were many erroneous messages on Twitter regarding identification requirements), and promoting voting dates and times.

Media kits were circulated to approximately 100 news outlets and reporters. The kits included frequently asked questions, backgrounders on ENL's headquarters and operations, and key contact information. They also included pamphlets on Special Ballot Voting, protection of privacy, guidelines for scrutineers, political contributions, student voting and one generalized pamphlet pertaining to the 2015 election with specific dates, deadlines and voting methods explained in it.

New Initiatives

For the 2015 Provincial General Election, ENL implemented several new initiatives and pilot projects which were both progressive and interesting to administer.

Voting Outside of District

As a pilot initiative for the 2015 provincial general election, electors throughout Newfoundland and Labrador were able to vote by Special Ballot (for a candidate in their home district) at any ENL office in the province. An elector traveling from St. John's to Fogo Island, for example, could vote at the Returning Office in Fogo Island – Cape Freels for the candidate of his/her choice running in his/her home district of St. John's West. Though this option was not widely used, it did offer a convenient voting option to the 423 electors who availed of it.

Accessibility Taskforce

In March 2015, ENL was approached by the Disability Policy Office (DPO) of the Department of Seniors, Wellness and Social Development, along with the Coalition of Persons with Disabilities (COD-NL) to participate in an electoral accessibility task force. The group was established to focus on the following objective:

The task force will guide work that focuses on educating and supporting all relevant partners to ensure inclusive electoral “operational” processes (i.e. removing barriers) through the following activities:

- A video format (YouTube) of current information available from ENL on how to vote and the electoral process signed in ASL, captioning and with a speaker.
- A training session for the Returning Officers including handouts of material covering:
 - » Relevant standards to guide accessibility considerations for polling stations
 - » Disability-related supports that may be required to support access to voting.
- Training materials/ checklists for polling station staff

The task force consisted of members from ENL, DPO, COD-NL, Canadian National Institute for the Blind (CNIB), Canadian Hard of Hearing Association - NL (CHHA-NL), Newfoundland and Labrador Association for the Deaf and Memorial University of Newfoundland (MUN).

The group successfully met its objective, completing YouTube videos explaining the voting process in American Sign Language (ASL) with voiceover and captioning. Further, the voiceover and captioning used clear language. Two accessibility checklists were also developed for use in Returning Offices and in voting locations. They aided ENL staff in finding suitable and accessible district offices and voting locations, and contained tips on how to respectfully assist persons with disabilities.

As noted previously, ENL invited COD-NL to present to all ENL staff at training sessions which took place in St. John's, which was a development from the taskforce meetings. CON-NL presented at each general election training session and the presentation was met with appreciation and enthusiasm from election officials who received the training. Not only did the training given by COD-NL serve to benefit those working in the polls and election offices throughout the province, taskforce members agreed that the information and knowledge shared in the training sessions would transcend election purposes and serve to benefit the social groups and communities that our workers belong to.

The taskforce meetings resulted in a mutual understanding between ENL and the community organizations of the needs of electors with disabilities and what can be done to improve the accessibility of elections. Further, it provided the opportunity to think outside the box and be creative with finding solutions and improvements. Most importantly, it established a relationship between ENL and COD-NL to work together in the future to make elections as accessible as possible while still operating within the legislative parameters of the Elections Act, 1991.

Voting Office on Memorial University of Newfoundland Campus

ENL was approached by the Canadian Federation of Students NL (CFS-NL) in October 2015 regarding the possibility of opening a student voting office at the Memorial University of Newfoundland (MUN) campus. Elections Canada launched a similar project for the first time during the fall federal election, establishing 38 voting locations on campuses across Canada, as well as in 13 Friendship Centres and two YMCAs.

Elections Newfoundland and Labrador agreed to undertake a similar pilot project for the 2015 provincial election. In consultation with CFS-NL, MUN's St. John's campus was selected as the sole location for the campus voting office because it is the largest post-secondary campus in the province. ENL engaged the advice and guidance of several individuals who had worked on the project with Elections Canada to assist with the logistics of establishing such an operation on campus.

ENL was on site at MUN for three full days offering Special Ballot voting to students, faculty and anyone else who wanted to vote there. ENL employed 34 people to work at the campus voting site, most of whom were MUN students. ENL also had employees from headquarters present each day to manage staffing, answer questions and assist in the completion of oaths. The MUN campus voting office was promoted on Twitter, through the MUN campus communication system (TV screens on campus), by putting up posters all over campus, and through an email that went out to students from the registrar's office. Advertisements targeting students were placed in the MUN newspaper and on the MUN radio station.

Over the course of the three days at MUN, 698 votes were cast. While this number was much less than ENL anticipated based on the Elections Canada results, it was still a success as many students who voted commented that they would not have voted had the opportunity not been offered on campus.

ENL Headquarters Call Centre

ENL established a formal call centre in its warehouse facility to manage calls to ENL headquarters leading up to and during the election. It was anticipated that the call volume would be greater than past elections as a result the change to electoral district boundaries that occurred just prior to the election and the proximity of Newfoundland and Labrador's General Election to the Federal General Election.

The redistribution and reduction of electoral districts from 48 to 40 saw the majority of provincial electors reassigned to new electoral districts or polls, while the proximity of the provincial and federal elections created some confusion between federal and provincial ridings and districts, federal and provincial voters lists, as well as other logistical and legislative differences, such as identification requirements.

The call centre was located at ENL headquarters in St. John's and was operational from October 1, 2015 to November 30, 2015. During the first six weeks of operations, five full-time representatives provided support to the electorate Monday to Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Hours of operation and staffing compliments were expanded from November 14 to November 30 with the addition of four over-flow representatives and the extension of operating hours from 8:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. on weekdays and 9:00 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. on weekends. As anticipated, call volume was significant with representatives assisting over 6,000 electors. The call centre received over 2,500 calls during the month of October and approximately 3,500 calls during the month of November with approximately 2,800 of those calls occurring between November 16 and 30.

The top five reasons for calls were:

1. Verification of inclusion on the permanent list of electors
2. Request to be added to the permanent list of electors
3. Confirmation or update of information contained on the permanent list of electors
4. Verification of elector's district, poll and voting location
5. General questions pertaining to voting procedures pertaining to Special Ballot Voting, Advance Poll voting and Regular Poll voting

Nominated Candidates

In total, 124 candidates were nominated for the November 30, 2015 General Election. One candidate withdrew prior to the official close of nominations, but was replaced by the political party before the nomination deadline. Each of the three provincially registered political parties ran a full slate of 40 candidates. Additionally, four candidates who were not affiliated with political parties were nominated.

Of the 124 nominated candidates, 35 were women (28%) and 89 were men (72%).

Polls

There was a total 1754 regular, advanced and special ballot polls for the 2015 general election:

- 1575 regular polls which were held on Monday, November 30 (Election Day).
- 139 advance polls which were held on Monday, November 23, with numbers ranging from two per district to up to a maximum of seven in one district.
- 40 Special Ballot polls.

Polling stations were open on regular and advance poll days from 8:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. (half an hour earlier in most of Labrador). Special Ballot Offices were open for varying hours from Tuesday, October 13, 2015 to Monday, November 23, 2015.

Official List of Electors

The Official Revised List of Electors certified on November 25, 2015 for 40 electoral districts was used for the November 30, 2015 general election. The revised list contained 363,207 eligible electors.

Voting Statistics

The total number of votes cast for the November 30, 2015 general election was 200,834 with a voter turnout of 55.3 per cent.

- 169,054 votes cast at 1575 regular polls
- 21,429 votes cast at 139 advance polls
- 10,351 votes cast at 40 Special Ballot polls/districts
- 200,834 total votes cast
- 899 ballots were rejected
- 199,935 valid votes were counted

Swear Ins

A total of 30,440 electors were sworn in during the election: 26,561 electors on election day, 2448 electors at advance polls, and 1431 electors for Special Ballots.

Popular Vote by Party

The general election returned 31 Liberal, 7 Progressive Conservative and 2 New Democratic Party members to the House of Assembly. Returned members included 10 women (25%) and 30 men (75%). Popular vote was distributed as follows:

1. Liberal Party	57.1%
2. New Democratic Party	12.1%
3. Progressive Conservative Party	30.1%
4. Other	0.7%

Official Results

The official addition of the vote, which is required by legislation, was held in all 40 electoral districts on Thursday, December 3. During this procedure, the official documents containing the election night results are removed from each ballot box and are re-added to provide the official election results.

The official addition confirmed the preliminary results reported on election night in all 33 districts. There were minor changes to numbers in seven electoral districts, none of which affected the outcome reported on election night.

As the margin of victory for each winning candidate was over 10 votes per district the mandatory recount provisions of the Elections Act, 1991, were not applied in any electoral district.

Swearing in of New Members

The new members of the House of Assembly, elected in the November 30 provincial general election, were sworn in at a ceremony at Government House on December 14, 2015.

Recount/Controverted Election Applications

There were no applications filed for recounts or controverted elections.
